Presentation:
"YUNUS- Project
Education Material and Films
Introduction" (Fatma Kle)

Three films and three booklets were promoted.
It was explained to the teachers in which courses and in which age groups the developed educational materials can be used. Science, life knowledge, social studies, visual design, Turkish lessons how to integrate materials into curriculum were explained. It was observed that the goals and achievements contained in the curriculum coincided with the goals and achievements of lesson plans related to 3 types.
In addition to the introduction of the booklets, short films about the genres were screened. (final version approved by CFCU)

In addition, the achievements and objectives of all primary and secondary school classes were examined by environment education expert. Environmental education and its relationship with the Turkish education curriculum were explained to the teachers. A document was shared with the participants on which courses can be used in detail with booklets on three species.
In studies related to environmental education, it has been explained that it may be an additional resource provided to teachers. It was emphasized that it was brought to TURÇEV programs as a complementary resource (booklets and films) that can be used not only for this education period (2020-2021) but also from now on.

Additional Activities

A second brochure was prepared before the final meeting and cfcu also approved (date: 23.03.2021, photo 3). This action; the aim of this leaflet is to present to the Turkish and Greek communities the results of the Action it will be available in CSOs offices etc.

One of the aims; the announcement of the final meeting was shared on the social media accounts of TURCEV's programs in order to disseminate the action by presenting the project's activities. (Turkey's FEE Programs: Blue Flag, Green Key, Eco Schools, LEAF and YRE). Announcement was made to NGO and participants regarding the posts on the project's instagram account and civil society dialogue instagram account. (Annex 1 and instagram posts)

The final meeting announcement and the project process were regularly published in trimonthly journal of TURCEV. We have included the processes and activities of the project in our quarterly bulletins regularly. The list of trimonthly journal of TURCEV are shared in annex 2.

Information has been shared on Turcev's website since the beginning of the project. Booklets for pilot studies were shared with the participants for download from the site. (Related link: http://www.turcev.org.tr/V2/icerikDetay.aspx?icerik_id=144)

Turkish translations of the booklets were prepared for the project booklets. Three offers were received for the printing and designer. After the designer was determined, Turkish translation was placed on ready-made designs prepared by HSPN. Finally brochures and booklets were printed. The English texts prepared by HSPN for the Turkish section of the website of the project were translated into Turkish.

Summary

The re-cooperation with the Muđla Directorate of National Education played an important role in the recognition of the project. Dissemination has been easier with national education directorates. Thus, participation from schools that did not run TURCEV programs was sustainable. Three resource books and films that teachers who are sensitive to environmental education can use were provided. An important resource has been provided to the Turkish environmental education curriculum on both information in the field of environmental education and species.

Teachers who participated in both summer school and pilot studies emphasized that they could use the project outputs later.
